

NEWS RELEASE

U.S. ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERS

BUILDING STRONG®

Afghanistan Engineer District— South

For Immediate Release September 5, 2011

Regional Military Training Center Briefing

SHINDAND, Afghanistan--Lt. Gen. Sher Mohammad Karimi, Chief of Staff, Afghanistan National Army (far right), and Lt. Gen. William B. Caldwell, Commander, NATO Training Mission-Afghanistan (right), receive a briefing on the construction of a regional military training center for the Afghanistan national army from Capt. Gregory Ward, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Afghanistan Engineer District-South. When completed, the training center will provide living and classroom training facilities for roughly 3,000 Afghan soldiers. Behind Capt. Ward is Maj. Reginald Maddox, also from the Afghanistan Engineer District-South. (DoD Photo)